Evaluating & Endorsing Language Skills

The Tests of English: Certify Your Trainees

The Tests of English are international English language exams for speakers of English as a foreign language. They come in six levels compatible with The Common European Framework for Language Reference (CEFR). The alignment of NHC tests to the CEFR has been established by mapping the test specifications to the CEFR descriptors. Our work is in progress to further improve the robustness of the alignment on the basis of empirical data. This assessment solution is designed to evaluate and accredit general English language proficiency

Aim of the Tests:

The aim of these exams is to endorse students' English Proficiency Level which augments learners' employment opportunities. In this way, NHC qualifications can meet the different needs of all students. The Tests of English are designed to assess how well learners can communicate in authentic and realistic situations, and not on how well they remember formal vocabulary and structures. For this reason, the tests use real-life situations rather than grammatical exercises.

A Range of Tests to Meet Different Needs

CEFR Level	Qualification	NHC Test Level	Duration
C2 Mastery	Mastery in English Certificate	Mastery	3 hrs.
C1 EOP	Advanced English Certificate	Advanced	2hrs. 30
B2 Vantage	Excellence in English Certificate	Upper Intermediate	2hrs.
B1 Threshold	Intermediate English Certificate	Intermediate	1hr. 45
A2 Waystage	Basic English Certificate	Elementary	1hr. 30
A1 Breakthrough	English Fundamentals Certificate	Beginner	1hr. 15

Tests are marked by teams of professionals; Successful candidates receive Performance Reports & Certificates of Achievement powered by Notting Hill College & School of Continuing Education at Eton University.

Test Privileges

An Integrated Structure

The tests accurately measure the Listening, Reading, Speaking and Writing abilities of test takers. The tests also help non-native speakers of English to get recruited in positions where English is the principal language of communication.

Progress through the Levels

Candidates are able to enter at a stage that suits them and rise through the series as their English language skills improve.

Benchmark of Language Ability

Mapping to the CEFR enables language learners, teachers, universities and potential employers to compare and relate language qualification by level.

Variety of Options

The Tests of English come in two different formats paper and internet-based.

International Recognition

The Tests of English are accepted by a variety of international companies and universities.
